

Kevin Evans

Kevin Evans is a dedicated community leader and seasoned professional with a strong track record in volunteer service and public engagement. Currently, he serves as Vice Chair of the Hollyburn Community Services Society and frequently acts as an MC and facilitator at charitable community fundraisers, embodying his commitment to enriching the lives of those around him.

Over the years, Kevin has contributed his expertise to a wide array of organizations. His volunteer leadership includes roles as Vice Chair of the North Vancouver Museum and Archives Commission, President of the Rotary Club of North Vancouver, and Chair of both Operation Red Nose in North Vancouver and the Stony Mountain Penitentiary Citizens Advisory Council. He has also served as Governor for the Coast Mental Health Foundation and Director for the Canadian Cancer Society (BC & Yukon Division). In addition, Kevin has lent his insights as a member of advisory bodies at Simon Fraser University—the Morris J. Wosk Centre for Dialogue Advisory Council and the Co-op Education Advisory Committee—and as a member of the Coalition of BC Businesses, the Chaur North Shore Business Council, and the North Vancouver Chamber of Commerce.

His service with the Lutheran Urban Mission Society and the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church Council further reflects his deep commitment to community well-being.

Professionally, Kevin's background is equally impressive. His career spans broadcasting with CBC, facilitation, executive leadership as CEO of a BC Crown Corporation, and extensive work in government relations. This diverse experience has equipped him with unique skills in communication, strategic planning, and organizational leadership, which he seamlessly integrates into his community and volunteer efforts.

Through his multifaceted career and ongoing volunteer service, Kevin Evans continues to make a significant impact on the communities he serves, demonstrating unwavering dedication, visionary leadership, and a passion for positive change.
